TOWN

Andrychów is a colourful town located at the foot of Little Beskids on the border of Silesia and Lesser Poland. Its extensive and modern hotel, tourism, and recreational infrastructure guarantees a wonderful holiday experience. Andrychów's proximity to Oświęcim, Wadowice, Żywiec, Kraków, and Katowice makes it an excellent starting point for short excursions. And it's not that far from Slovakia and Czech Republic. With all of its surrounding villages, the town is an exciting destination full of attractions for all visitors. Staying in Andrychów gives you a unique opportunity to find some peace and relaxation and to catch a „second breath” in your busy everyday life. Andrychów is also a dynamically developing Special Economic Zone and Economic Activity Zone, which attracts new investors by stimulating the economic development of the entire region by i.e. creating new jobs in modern innovative industries.

Andrychów is woven of investments.

TOURISM

Vacation, leisure, and relaxation? Only in Andrychów. Following the rule of „discovering the undiscovered”, we are pleased to invite you to a place of picturesque mountains, enchanting views, and thought-provoking, quiet valleys. Instead of squeezing through crowded boardwalks of popular resorts, experience the charm of Andrychów and taste local delicacies. Andrychów’s cuisine, although still not particularly well known, is something special. The combination of its variety, colours, and smells results in an exceptionally rich culinary blend. It was formed over many centuries by Moravians, Vlachs, Ruthenians, Jews, Saxons, the Flemish, and Beskids’ highlanders. Each of these nations added something of its own into the Andrychovian palette of tastes. And Andrychów itself is just like its cuisine – delightfully simple yet full of unforgettable sensations for gourmets (tourists).

ATTRACTIONS

Andrychów is a place weaved with attractions, a place of captivating landscapes and lush green mountainsides. Firs and foremost, it's a sub-Beskidian cauldron of entertainment, fun, feasts, and joy. It's also full of surprises. Dinosaurs, water slides, ropes courses, paintball arenas, underground labyrinths, fire breathing dragon, animals from all over the world, and our local hutsuls. Mementos of past residents, special and uncommon places, breathtaking views, and forest retreats. Andrychów is like a magnet. It attracts tourists using extraordinariness, surprises, and variety. One could describe it for a very long time... We invite to Andrychów.

NATURE AND EXPLORATION TOURISM

Little Beskids are a small but very interesting mountain range, both in terms of natural environment and landscape. The eastern part of Little Beskids is called the Andrychovian Beskids. A larger part of the municipality is located within the Little Beskids National Park. In good weather, the summit of Leskowiec offers a wonderful view of the Beskids. However, the views from Potrójna (883 m above sea level) are even more extensive – you can additionally see the Żywiec Basin, Silesian Beskids with Barania Góra and Skrzyczne, and other peaks of Little Beskids.

RELIGIOUS TOURISM

Charming shrines shaded by trees can be found all over the municipality. They are tangible proof that Beskids' highlanders grounded their actions and beliefs on the divine absolute. They expressed their gratitude for successful harvests, for a husband's safe return from war, or for the peaceful life of Andrychów's residents in this simple but meaningful way – by erecting sorrowful roadside Madonnas, stone pillars that also used to be road signs. Ridge of John Paul II is a special place. It's a mountain peak very closely connected with pope John Paul II. In his childhood and youth, Karol Wojtyła ascended the peak many times, also as a bishop. There is a chapel near the summit – Mountain People Sanctuary. And on its altar there is a painting of Our Lady Queen of Mountain People. Inside the chapel you will also find the throne on which John Paul II sat in Skoczów on May 22, 1995.

HORSE RIDING TOURISM

The picturesque area of Little Beskids is a perfect spot for long horseback rides. In the local stables you will mostly find purebred Arabian horses and hutsuls, and children can ride ponies. Horse riding resorts offer horse riding lessons, excursions, horse riding camps, carriage rides, and sleigh rides in winter.

SPA & WELLNESS TOURISM

After an eventful day, the visitors can indulge themselves in fine spa & wellness rooms in local hotels. Spa treatments performed by highly qualified specialists improve your health and well-being, and let you forget about everyday worries. Blissful relaxation in a unique atmosphere full of sensual fragrances and soft music will help you unwind and calm down. The combination of swimming pools, jacuzzi, modern massage parlours, professional and discreet staff, and picturesque mountains creates a truly unforgettable experience.
